Tip 1: The wick	Tip 2: The Burning	Tip 3: The lid	Tip 4: The fragrance	Tip 5: The Duration
What to do? Always extinguish the flame after 3 hours, trim the wick to 5mm from the wax (wait for candle to cool down), by doing this you will extend burn time and cleaner burn overall.	What to do? Allow the entire top layer of the candle to melt to the sides of the jar on first use. Avoid the “tunneling effect” (hole in the middle), which forms if the candle is burning for too long.	What to do? Use the lid to extinguish the candle (instead of blowing it out), by doing this you will avoid unpleasant odors to go around the room and retain the natural pleasant fragrance of the candle.	What to do? As the fragrance throw comes from the wax pool it is always best to choose the appropriate candle size for the area you want to place it in. In bigger rooms our advice is to place two or more candles size 350g.	What to do? Never leave a burning candle unattended and avoid leaving it on for too long; we advise to not leave it burning longer than 3 hours, to prevent the glass container from overheating.
